Surviving a deadly assault should be on the mind of every officer. A deadly encounter may occur at any time-- and surviving the actual assault goes beyond just surviving the incident.

The goal for this training is to help peace officers better understand the concepts that surround a deadly assault so they may be better equipped to handle such an incident when it occurs. The video covers a wide range of topics that are critical to survival before, during, and after an assault, including physical and mental training, physiological responses, the legal process following an incident, and thoughts about returning to the department.

Segments include:

- Overview
- Preparation
- The Dorner Incident
- Post-Incident
- Recovery
- Life Assessment
- Final Thoughts

The DVD-ROM video program offers two viewing modes and printable instructor and trainee documents:

Facilitated Group Course

Each segment features a short introduction, followed by scenarios with related questions and activities to assist in facilitating a group discussion. The facilitator has the option to play subject matter expert comments after the discussion to re-emphasize a training point or to ensure all topics are covered. A "Facilitator Guide" document (PDF) is included on the DVD-ROM for printout from a computer.

Informational/Individual Viewing

This viewing mode allows an individual trainee or a small group of trainees to view the training video without formal (classroom) facilitation by an instructor. Features the same scenarios and questions or activities as the "Facilitated Group Course" track. Individual viewers may view sample group discussions, followed by comments from subject matter experts that reiterate and reinforce the teaching points. A "Student Workbook" document (PDF) is included on the DVD-ROM for printout from a computer.

Additional "how to" instructions for facilitation and obtaining CPT credit are included on the main menu of the video.
